

Rev. Michele Synegal is a distinguished leader whose career bridges the worlds of ministry, business and transformational education. Renowned for her unwavering commitment to service and excellence. She is the originator of the World Day of Service and she has inspired communities, organizations, and individuals alike with her visionary leadership and profound expertise.

Ministerial Journey

Rev. Michele has served as a senior minister since 2009, guiding her congregation with wisdom and compassion. Her formal ordination in 2012 marked a pivotal milestone, deepening her spiritual influence and solidifying her role as a pillar of faith. Throughout her ministerial tenure, she has uplifted countless lives, fostering growth, healing and unity within her community. She serves as the senior minister of the Temple of Light, Center for Spiritual Living in Kingston, Jamaica.

Business Leadership

Since 1990, Rev. Michele has owned and directed an award-winning management consulting firm recognized for its innovative solutions and exceptional service. Her firm's clientele spans media organizations, non-profit institutions and agencies of the United States federal government. Through her visionary approach, she has helped diverse organizations achieve operational excellence and lasting impact.

Rev. Michele has made significant contributions across diverse sectors and communities, further establishing her reputation as an innovative trailblazer and dedicated mentor. By continually forging new paths and empowering those around her, she has created a lasting legacy that stands as a beacon of hope and possibility for all who encounter her work. Academically accomplished, Rev. Michele earned her master's degree in Consciousness Studies from the Holmes Institute and received her bachelor's degree in Human Relations and Organizational Behavior from the University of San Francisco, reflecting her deep commitment to both spiritual growth and organizational excellence.