

My Commitment to the CSL Global Vision

Written by Rev. Elisha Christopher

I choose to see all people, all beings and all life as expressions of God.

I continuously choose to live in alignment with my highest spiritual principle.

I emphasize unity with God and connection with everyone I meet.

I am continuously seeking to rise to higher states of consciousness and action.

I look for the inherent spiritual magnificence in all people.

I use the creative power of my thoughts, my personal power, and ability to create in ways that my individual life supports the emergence of a world that works for everyone.

I live and grow as a Global Citizen that respects and honors the interconnectedness of all life.

My kinship with life prospers and connects through the guidance of spiritual wisdom and experience.

My personal responsibility and social conscience are joined in every area of my political, corporate, academic and social choices, supporting sustainable structures that further the emerging global consciousness.

To the extent that I am able, I make sure that everyone in my immediate sphere has enough food, a home and a sense of belonging, and I make choices that support this right and possibility for all people.

I am a place of peace and harmony, and I stand for enfranchisement and justice.

I value and care for the Earth's resources, grow what I can, and generously and continuously share what I have.

For me, forgiveness (whether for errors, injustices or debts) is the norm.

I place emphasis on beauty, nature and love through my upwelling gifts of creativity, art and aesthetics.

I am dedicated to building a world that works for everyone and for all of creation.
