

Rev. Elzia JH Sekou is a multi-spiritual linguist and the senior minister at CSL Denver. Additionally, he serves as the Lead Application Engineer at LTCI Partners, where he focuses on strategy, process, and system transformation. He holds a B.S. in Management from Florida A&M University, an M.S. in Management Information Systems from The City College of New York, and a master's degree in Consciousness Studies from the Holmes Institute.

With experience spanning various sectors—including government, financial services, IT, and academia, Elzia has worked with prominent clients such as NASA, JP Morgan, and the Department of Interior. He also served as an Assistant Professor of Computer Science at Florida A&M University.

An active community servant, Elzia has participated in numerous boards, contributed as a member of the Denver Juvenile Justice Drug Court, and served as the former chair of the Cultural Diversity and Human Relations Commission for the city of Lakewood, Colorado. Currently, he is a Board of Trustee member at Iliff School of Theology.

Grounded in the teachings of Hermetics, Islam, the Tao, and The New Thought philosophy, Elzia has lived in four states and Australia and brings a unique perspective on spirituality, relationship building and cultural differences. He is an active member of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity and is passionate about yoga, running, and scuba diving.

His guiding mottos are:

1. "Don't go where the path may lead; go where there is no path and leave a trail." - Ralph Waldo Emerson
2. "It's better to be prepared for an opportunity and not have one than to have an opportunity and not be prepared." - Les Brown
